

U. S. WILL JOIN LEAGUE IN YEAR

By DAVID LAWRENCE.

method of international cooperation is going to come out of it.

American membership likely.

"It will not, of course, be either the creator of the millennium, as so many of its friends say, nor the creator of a superstate, as its enemies feel."

Quite on the other hand, it will be a practical and useful working medium through which the nations can meet regularly on all matters of common interest and draw up a program to be submitted to their respective states for approval or disapproval."

The league of nations, therefore, is a going concern, flexible enough in its organization to permit modification of its constitution and bylaws so that America can enter into it without fear of being outvoted or compelled to go to war at the behest of other nations. And when the present political campaign is over, whether Mr. Harding or Mr. Cox is elected, there are going to be modifications to reassure the American public. American membership in the league of nations is likely today with the president Mr. Root is playing in its deliberations than at any time since the controversy between president Wilson and his opponents began to blunder the issue—Coryright, 1920, by David Lawrence.

Mrs. James M. Cox, wife of the Democratic candidate for president, was among the first women in this country to offer her services for war work.

MEMBERS UNION LABOR PROGRESSIVE LEAGUE, ATTENTION!

There will be a called meeting of the Union Labor Progressive League held Saturday evening, July 31, at 8 o'clock, at Mober Hall, to which all members of the League are urged to be present. There are matters of vital importance to the members of organized labor to be discussed. Every member is urged to be in attendance.

Unique Necklaces

We are showing a collection of necklaces which have a fascinating charm.

They breathe the spirit of far off lands and their exquisite workmanship brings visions of master craftsmen plying their trade in hidden places. They are modeled from French and Oriental designs taken from urns, lamps, and the antiques of many lands.

The showing includes topaz, lapis, tiger eyes, old ivory, tourmaline, jet, etc., with oxidized chains or metal cords. Very effective as girlies when worn with Russian blouses.

For gift purposes these necklaces are very pleasing. This exclusive showing is now on display in our windows. Moderately priced from $12.50 to $20.

Some Day

Some day the man who buys a suit of clothes will learn that, like a watch, it depends upon its maker. Many people believe that "any suit will do." When you put money into a carelessly made garment you cheat yourself. Customs made clothes look better, wear better and are infinitely cheaper in the end than all other kinds. More than that, you are enabled to select worthy material, to determine the style for yourself and to feel satisfied that you have the best. I make the best clothes for men in this part of the country and my prices are the lowest for the same quality of work in the United States. Come and convince yourself.

Neff Summons Anti-Bailey Conference

Dallas, Tex., July 21.—Pat W. Neff, called a conference of anti-Bailey men in Dallas next Monday.

Neff is still confined to his home by a slight illness in Waco.

Bailey's feet and hands today and will leave tonight for a tour of west Texas. He will speak in San Angelo Monday; Ballinger, Tuesday; Coleman, Wednesday; Brownwood, Thursday; and Big Spring, Saturday.

Bailey's headquarters announced that among the speakers would be ex-senator S. P. Skinner, of El Paso. Skinner was a member of the house when Bailey was investigated and was anti-Bailey.

Bailey's land over Neff is now 3,628. Latest figures on the race are Bailey, 14,732; Loomis, 46,745; Neff, 12,848; Thompson, 92,765.

Manfield is only 40 miles away and many in the throng were personal friends of senator Harding. Farmers, store keepers, and professional men were among the speakers in the crowd, which included both men and women.

The principal event of the day's program was senator Harding's address, which was held until late afternoon, but the Richland county people began to come in early by train, motor and airplane.

Two airplanes were pilots of the pilgrimage here. Mrs. Gordon A. Brown, vice president of the Manfield Aero club, was accorded the distinction of conveying from the air the first of the west porch decorations. A woman's Harding club had a prominent place in the parade.

After a luncheon on the Harding lawn, the program included an address of greeting by E. B. Caplinger, preceding senator Harding's speech.

"Perch" Red After.

The porch which today becomes one of the landmarks of American political history has a curious stretch along the south and east sides of the residence. At the corner turn, the curving white balustrade swings out to form a little more than a semi-circle, and it is here that the utterances of the nominees are delivered.

The picture as a whole, with white pillars and rail set off against the dark green body of the house, gives the impression of a comfortable every-day dwelling; but the jutting alcove at the corner, facing an open stretch of lawn, provides a striking vantage point for the use now made of it.

The Harding lawn is no longer a lawn at all, but an expanse of white crushed limestone, washed clean by an evening thunder shower. The pebbly carpet was laid to preserve a solid surface under the tramp of the thousands expected to take part in the front porch campaign.

LAFOLLETTE WILL ACCEPT NOMINATION, SAYS LEADER

Detroit, Mich., July 21.—Senator Robert M. LaFollette, of Wisconsin, will be presidential candidate of the faction of the committee of 44, which refused to campaign for the labor party at the recent Chicago convention, according to Howard F. Williams, national vice chairman of the organization. A national convention soon to be held, Mr. Williams stated, would formally tender the nomination to the Wisconsin senator.

It was planned, he said, to place a presidential ticket before voters in 24 states under the name of the Liberal party. Mr. Williams announced the first meeting of an organization campaign in Michigan here last night.

Thomson Extends Thanks To Friends And Tells Why He Is Supporting Neff

ROBERT E. THOMSON, late candidate for governor, today gave out the following statement:

"It will be impossible for me either in person or by letter to thank all my El Paso and west Texas friends for their generous support in my race for governor. The Herald has been so loyal to my cause, I wish it would thank them for me. Nearly all the papers of the state gave me their active support, but none that I appreciated more than The El Paso Herald. West Texas will never elect a man to high state office unless he has the solid support of this section.

"I am not ashamed of the race I made. I tried to pitch the campaign upon a high plane and stand for constructive things. When the final returns are in I will receive about 190,000 votes. I have never lived in but two places—Caldwellville and El Paso—where I received more votes than all my opponents combined. I carried cities like Dallas, Houston and Austin and was a close second in nearly all the other larger cities and towns. I was unable to visit or organize the smaller counties, but the count of the enormity of the state and the fact that the legislature met in special session and took the vote of the heart of the campaign for 20 days.

"I can never forget the loyalty of my friends. They will, of course, in the run-off election, support the man of their choice.

"As for myself, I cannot vote for Mr. Bailey, as that would be a repudiation of some of the very principles I have stood for.

EL PASO HERALD CALS FOR COX'S LEAGUE STAND

manipulate over Armenia. I asked whether Gov. Cox had undertaken to maintain the administration policy in the Adriatic where their policy has already well high forfeited the friendship of the Italian nation. I asked whether Gov. Cox had pledged himself to insist, as president Wilson has heretofore insisted, that Turkey shall be settled as Bulgaria desires rather than as Greece desires.

Questions, Not Answers.

"In short, I asked whether the Democratic nominees have taken over the various known and unknown commitments of the administration's foreign policy in order to establish harmony between the president and Gov. Cox."

"None of these questions has been answered. But there is accumulating evidence as to the Democratic attitude. Senator Walsh, of Washington, a Democrat, was in Dayton yesterday and after a long talk with Gov. Cox declared he was ready to support the governor. According to the newspaper reports, the senator was asked about the new declaration regarding article ten, and senator Walsh said it was possible for him to agree with a candidate on his line of the issues and still support that candidate, even if they differed on the least proposition."

"Thus it becomes apparent senator Walsh was not able to agree with Gov. Cox's view on article ten. The only possible inference is that the Democratic nominees are maintaining the same attitude toward article ten that president Wilson has long maintained."

Week To Close Issues.

"There is further evidence that the Democratic nominees are obliged to stand by the foreign policy of the administration. The new chairman of the Democratic national committee, indicated very plainly that the Democrats intend to attempt forcing other issues to the front, to keep the public mind away from the fact that their candidate has given his pledges to support the principles of the Wilson policy toward the treaty and league."

"It is perfectly understandable that the Democratic campaign manager should desire to have the whole party business of Democratic foreign policies forgotten."

Restatement To Issue.

"No matter how it may be camouflaged, it is more obvious every day that if the Democrats should win, their efforts would be to compel ratification of the league covenant without the ratification of the treaty. Walsh's statement makes this perfectly plain. He admitted himself in disagreement with Gov. Cox immediately after a long talk with the governor. Senator Walsh has heretofore been just as ardently opposed to article ten as any of us. But for the sake of Democratic harmony, he is now apparently willing to forget about it. He is willing to let the party forget about it by pushing other issues to the front."

Connection With Progressivism.

"White's statement that progressivism is to be the paramount issue of the campaign, I note that Mr. Walsh announced that the Democratic nominees will not restrict itself to 1900 contributions as announced by the Republican campaign committee. The Democrats are not easily raised for unpopular causes, and the effort to hitch the Republican campaign to the Democratic program constitutes anything but a popular cause."

Cox Speech To Answer

Washington, July 21.—The position of the Democratic party with reference to the league of nations, in the present campaign, when governor Cox delivers his speech accepting the presidential nomination, will be a clear-cut issue, declared today in answer to the inquiry of senator Harding as to the party's stand on the administration's foreign policy.

FAST TIME FROM DALLAS BY AUTO

Judge Adrian Pool, of El Paso, accompanying C. C. Moorman, J. A. Chaffee and J. F. Knott, of Dallas, in Mr. Moorman's Pierce-Arrow car, made the trip from Dallas to El Paso over Texas highway No. 1 in two days. Mr. Knott is cartoonist for the Dallas News.

They left Dallas at 5:30 a. m. Thursday and reached El Paso at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon. The distance covered was 710 miles.

They reported the roads good except for a section beginning 15 miles east of El Paso and extending west to Baird, then between Toyahvale and Kent. Judge Pool says he would not call the road good between Sierra Blanca and Pecos, as it has many chuck holes.

The party took lunch the first day out at Abilene and supper at Odessa and stopped at Barstow for the night. Friday morning they left Barstow at 11 a. m. and arrived at El Paso eight hours later.

Judge Pool says the entire highway has been financed and soon will be in shape. Over two million dollars will be spent on the road between Big Spring and Sierra Blanca, he says.

Judge Pool says he is supporting Joe Bailey in his runoff race against Ray Neff for governor.

LEAGUE "BANKERS" SOVIET CHRISTENSEN STATEMENT

New York, July 21.—The league of nations is "nothing more than an attempt to establish an international bankers' soviet," declared P. D. Christensen, presidential nominee of the Farmer-Labor party, here.

"The league of nations is a dead issue," he said, "if it were not, I should want to kill it."

Endorsement of Irish freedom was another point on which he expressed himself.

"I am one of those who is sufficiently in love with the principles of human freedom to come out squarely for recognition of the Irish republic," he said.

Referring to the attempts of governor Cox and senator Harding to persuade Tennessee to pass the equal suffrage law, he said:

"If Cox and Harding can't get ratification, I will go down and try the ruble myself."

Mr. Christensen announced that the national campaign of the third party will be launched in New York city where, he said, "we are enthroned the powers we are fighting." These powers he explained, are collectively, "Wall Street" for it is Wall Street he added, "that wins no matter which of the old party candidates is elected."

"We are out," he continued, "to restore the government to the people—to make it impossible for Woodrow Wilson to say in the future, as he has in the past, that the government of the United States is controlled by the combined corporations and financiers of the United States. 'It was true when he said it, and it is true today. We want to make it false.'"

Both the Democratic and Republican parties, the candidate declared, are engaged in a conspiracy to perpetuate the league issue. Their purpose in perpetuating the discussion, he continued, is to blind the people to the vital issues. The platform on which they stand are "disgracefully empty."

Mr. Christensen charged that "there is a plot on between the reactionaries of the Republicans and Democrats to establish a league of nations, the nineteenth amendment by the necessary thirty sixth state. Third party leaders, conferring in El Paso, announced today they are making progress in whipping out shape plans for a national campaign. The conference will be in session several days."

There is only one "Victrola" and NOTHING is a Victrola except the ones that have the picture of the famous "dog" under the lid.

—If you want absolutely the best, you must insist on getting a VICTROLA, and not accept one of the many substitutes being offered that have nothing to bid for public favor except the fact that they "play all records"—this is merely a nice way to explain that they will play VICTOR RECORDS.

SAYS THOMSON SUPPORTERS SHOULD VOTE FOR NEFF

"Since the defeat of P. D. Christensen, numbers of El Pasoans have expressed themselves as being disgruntled, and having no intention of voting in the runoff," said Wm. D. Abbott.

"This is wrong, as the policy of Neff and that advocated by Mr. Thomson are nearly the same. We voted for Mr. Thomson, but since his defeat, we must not give up. We should now vote for Mr. Neff, who believes in giving to labor and capital an impartial condition, upholds the eighteenth amendment, the ratification of the nineteenth amendment, the same report said that two men live in Texas, has a clean political career, and has the interest of the people at heart."

Who Look After Their Husbands Wardrobe

MANY men in El Paso owe a large part of their business success to the careful attention which their wives give the family finances. This ad is directed solely to these smart women.

Here is the Idea

FIEND husband can obtain a new fall suit at the cost of a pair of trousers. We now offer high grade wool trousers at practically half price.

If your husband bought his suit here, it is almost a certainty you can match the coat and vest with a pair of these trousers.

This is an odd lot of trousers we secured from one of our regular houses which supplies us with suits. They were made up from suit ends. In other words, from ends of cloth too small to make a suit.

We extend a special invitation to the wives who have their husbands' interests at stake to come and match up the coat and vest bought last spring with a pair of these trousers.

HARDING THANKS WOMEN OF ARIZONA IN TELEGRAM

Phoenix, Ariz., July 21.—The personal thanks of Sen. Warren G. Harding are extended to the Republican women of Arizona, for their assurance of support in the presidential campaign, received at Republican state headquarters today.

The letter came in response to a telegram sent following the Chicago convention, signed by Hannah C. Eggleston, women's executive, Republican state committee; Mrs. T. W. Sealy, state chairman; Mrs. K. S. Littlejohn, committee of 100; Mrs. B. B. Marks, vice chairman ways and means committee; Mrs. H. A. Gould, alternate delegate to the Republican national convention.

In reply, Sen. Harding wrote in part:

"I thank you for your manifestations of personal friendship, as well as your helpfulness in the general cause of your state. It would certainly be a matter of great satisfaction to have Arizona elected to the Republican states this fall."
